DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hablutzel (5,773,759).

Hablutzel discloses a ring-shaped collet (2, Fig. 2) comprising an inner wall, an outer wall, a first end and a second end, the ends separated by a width of the collet, at least two equally spaced apart slots (18) from the inner wall to the outer wall extending from the first end toward the second end partially across the width, at least two equally spaced apart slots (19) from the inner wall to the outer wall extending from the second end toward the first end partially across the width, the number of slots in the first end equal to the number of slots in the second end and the slots from the first end being located generally equally between the slots from the second end, the inner wall defining a diameter sized to receive a transmission line cable, the outer wall having a diameter which tapers from a greatest diameter proximate the first end to a smallest diameter proximate the second end, and the collet formed of a deformable material (col. 2, lines 51-59) (re claim 1). Hablutzel also discloses four slots extending from the first end toward the second end and four slots extending from the second end toward the first end (re claim 5).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary.

Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hablutzel.

Hablutzel discloses the invention substantially as claimed except for the collet being made of brass. However, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to use brass for the collet of Hablutzel since brass is well-known in the art for being used as couplings and for its highly corrosion-resistant.

6. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hablutzel in view of Hary (EP 167 738).

Claim 4 additionally recites the inner wall of the collet including ridges. Hary discloses a ring-shaped collet (34) having an inner wall including ridges (53). It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide the inner wall of Hablutzel's collet with ridges as taught by Hary to provide a gripping between the collet and the transmission line.

Specification

7. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: on page 6, lines 4-5, "128" is used for both "a threaded insert" and "a rear seal".

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

8. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

9. Claims 6 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 6 and 7, the recitation of "the shoulder being spaced apart from the first end a distance these than the width of the collet" is unclear and causes confusion.

Allowable Subject Matter

10. Claim 6 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

11. Claim 7 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.
